TO OFFICERS AND MEMBERS

INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

WHY YOU SHOULD VISIT HOT SPRINGS DURING THE MEETING OF THE I. T. U. HERE IN AUGUST, 1907.

You are part owners of the Hot Springs.

They are the property of the United States Government and are on a large government reservation and belong to all the people of the United States.

You are the people and therefore have an interest in them.

This is the only health and pleasure resort owned and conducted by Uncle Sam, and with his customary thoroughness he has made it one of the most attractive spots in all his domain.

The government has expended over $2,000,000 in substantial and beautiful improvements. Truly the hot springs, with all that the government has done, is one of the wonders of the world. It is well worth a trip from the most distant part of the country to see.

A COOL SUMMER CLIMATE.

There is a mistaken impression about the summer weather at Hot Springs. Because it is in the South, the idea prevails that it must be hot. This is not the case.

Hot Springs is a mountain resort, located among the peaks of the Ozarks, 1,000 feet above sea level. It has more visitors in summer than nine-tenths of the resorts of the Great Lakes and the mountain resorts of the North. There are never less than 4,000 to 5,000 visitors in Hot Springs in summer, and a large percentage of them are from the North. The temperature never gets as high as in the Northern section of the Mississippi Valley, and the nights are always so cool as to require covering to sleep comfortably. Only one of its numerous hotels closes in summer, which is ample proof of its desirability and equability as a cool summer resort.

No member of the I. T. U. need hesitate to come to Hot Springs during the convention on account of the climate. It will be the most delightful vacation trip he has ever taken.

The Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Government Ownership.

THE ownership and control of the Hot Springs of Arkansas by the United States Government is absolute, and its endorsement of them for the treatment of certain ailments is unequivocal.

After due investigation Congress took possession of the springs in the year 1832, and it retained around them a reservation ample to protect them from all encroachments. It was the first national park reservation of the country.

They are set apart by this act as "A National Sanitarium for all time," and "dedicated to the people of the United States to be forever free from sale or alienation."

In the year 1904 the State Legislature passed an act granting the general government exclusive jurisdiction and sovereignty over the reservation, since which time the government has made rules and restrictions for those who dispense the waters and practice in connection with them that have resulted in much good and better service to the sick.

Government Improvements.

The government scheme of improvements at Hot Springs has been going on for years.

The mountain side for a distance of several hundred feet has been beautifully parked and planted to shrubbery and climbing vines and flowers. The Grand and other entrances to the reservation are works of great architectural beauty.

The most important improvement to Hot Springs made by the government is the system of driveways and walks on the three mountains comprising the reservation. They wind around the sides of the mountains by easy grades to the summits five or six hundred feet above the city, disclosing at every point some new scene of beauty among the surrounding peaks and valleys of the Ozark mountains. There are about fifteen miles of drives and six miles of walks.

The Hot Water, Baths and Bath Houses.

THE average temperature of the waters of the forty-four Hot Springs of Arkansas is 135° Fahrenheit; they discharge 1,000,000 gallons per day. There are, all told, at Hot Springs, twenty-three bath houses, which pay the government for the privilege of using the waters, besides the government free bath house. As to their location, about half of them are situated upon the reservation forming what is known as "Bath House Row," while the balance are located at various other points throughout the city. About half of them also are in connection with hotels, or sanitariums, while the others stand by themselves. Some are of brick and some are of wood, and they range in cost from $15,000 to $75,000. In architecture they are very tasteful, some pretentious and elegant. They vary considerably in interior furnishing and equipment, and on this is based the difference in charges for baths. The water is the same in all.

All are clean, in perfect sanitary condition, as required by government rules, and porcelain tubs are universally used. The more expensive of the houses have solid Royal porcelain tubs, marble floors and partitions, private dressing rooms, and in addition to the hot baths have rooms for electric and massage treatment. All give vapor baths from the hot water, have sweat rooms, cooling rooms and parlors, while some provide reading and writing rooms and gymnasiums.

The relations of all the bath houses to the government are the same. They each pay a water rental to the Interior Department of $30 per tub per year. The combined capacity of all the bath houses is about 588 tubs, so that the government derives a revenue from this source alone of over $17,000 per year.

The government's interests are looked after here by a Superintendent, who is appointed by the President. He has charge of all improvements going on on the reservation and enforces all government rules and regulations concerning the bath houses.

The price of the baths for all the houses is fixed by government, and no charge can be made in excess of this price.

The attendants' fees are also fixed by government and are uniformly $3 for a course of twenty-one baths.

The following are the bath houses, with their prices:

BATH HOUSE	Course Twenty-One Baths	One Bath
Arlington.....	$10 00	$0 50
Alhambra.....	5 00	30
Crystal (for colored).....	5 00	30

For a half course of ten baths the charge is one-half the full course rate.

The United States Government maintains a free bath house for the indigent.

Action of the Waters.

THE following opinion of twenty physicians of the highest standing and long experience in the use of the waters, gives the best idea in comprehensive language of their action.

On account of their natural heat, their absolute purity, and consequent unparalleled solvent and eliminative action, together with the presence of a combination of hydrogen and silicon, and of free carbonic acid gas in large quantities, the former acting as a powerful tonic and stimulant, and the latter rendering them so palatable and exhilarating that they can be drunk ad libitum, at a temperature at which all known waters, either naturally or artificially heated, would be nauseating, all soluble medicines can be administered and tolerated while using these hot waters in much larger doses than elsewhere; hence they are more active and produce beneficial results in less time and with greater permanency.

Briefly stated, the use of the Hot Springs waters opens the pores and channels for the expulsion of matters injurious to health, arouses torpid and sluggish secretions, stimulates the circulation, the muscles, the skin, the nerves, the internal organs, and purifies the blood, removes all aches and pains, restores the exhausted, revives the debilitated and helps build up and renew the entire system.

They are administered in the treatment of the sick internally and externally, being drunk in large quantities and applied in all the different forms of baths.

Bureau of Information.

THE Business Men's League of Hot Springs, which publishes this pamphlet and vouches for its accuracy, maintains a Bureau of Information, for the benefit of visitors, at No. 249 Central Avenue, and all are invited to call and avail themselves of its privileges.

For further information, address

C. F. COOLEY, Secretary and Manager.

Ailments Treated and Cured.

THE number and variety of ailments successfully treated by means of the hot waters is a subject of frequent remark.

The following is the combined opinion of the leading medical practitioners of Hot Springs as to ailments that can be benefited and cured by the aid of the hot waters:

"Generally speaking, all diseases of the skin, blood, digestive and secretory organs, and nervous affections and ailments peculiar to women. Many physicians assert positively that all known diseases, but fevers and advanced lung troubles, are cured or benefited.

"Troubles that yield most readily to the hot water treatment are: Alcoholism, catarrah, chronic inflammation of the bladder and urethra, chronic ulcers, eczema, gout, hysteria, indigestion, insomnia, kidney and liver troubles, chronic diarrhoea, malaria, nervous prostration, neuralgia, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, phthisis (early stages), psoriasis, rheumatism in all forms, scrofula and all blood disorders, stomach diseases, tobacco poisoning and genito-urinary troubles.

"Chronic rheumatism is cured here in from three to eight weeks on an average, though a cure has been known in ten days.

"The water of Hot Springs is superior to all others, either natural or prepared, as an aid in surgical treatment."

Enlargement of the heart is cured, but the baths must be used with great care, and under a physician's guidance.

The value of the hot waters as a general tonic is becoming more and more recognized each year. Those whom they benefit in this category are the overworked business and professional men and women, ladies overburdened with the duties of society or their household; politicians and men of the world who have been going the pace; cases that refuse to recuperate after the eradication of la grippe, or any severe ailment; all find great benefits and quick recovery through these wonderful waters.

United States Government Endorsement.

IN his circular for the guidance of the officers of the army in sending the sick here, the Surgeon-General of the United States army enumerates the ailments for which the sick should be sent to the army and navy hospital at the Hot Springs of Arkansas. It says:

"Relief may be reasonably expected at the Hot Springs in the following conditions: In the various forms of gout and rheumatism, after the acute or inflammatory stage; neuralgia, especially when depending upon gout rheumatism, metallic or malarial poisoning, paralysis not of organic origin; the earlier stages of locomotor ataxia; chronic Bright's disease (the early stages only), and other diseases of the urinary organs; functional diseases of the liver; gastric dyspepsia, not of organic origin; chronic diarrhoea; catarrhal affections of the digestive and respiratory tracts; chronic skin diseases, especially the squamous varieties, and chronic conditions due to malarial infection."

Approved: R. M. O'REILLY,
Surgeon-General U. S. Army.
E. ROOT, Secretary of War.

Physicians and Medical Regulations.

THE U. S. Government through the Interior Department regulates and controls the practice of medicine in connection with the hot waters. A local Federal Medical Board passes on the applications of physicians who wish to prescribe the hot waters. All who meet the requirements of the board are placed on the accredited list. Copies of this list are hung in all the bath houses and only those whose names appear thereon are permitted to prescribe the hot waters. For the benefit of visitors these lists are also kept at the office of the Superintendent of the Reservation.

These regulations only apply to those who take medical treatment. Others get the baths without formalities of any kind.

The corps of physicians and surgeons at Hot Springs includes many practitioners who are recognized the country over as standing in the foremost rank of the medical profession.

The Climate of Hot Springs.

FROM a climatic standpoint the Hot Springs of Arkansas, the most wonderful hot springs in the world, could not have been more advantageously situated. They are removed from all extremes. Located in the south, northern visitors find here a sure escape from the severities of their winters. Driving, horseback riding, and all out-door sports and recreation can be indulged in four days out of five all winter. In spring and fall the weather is perfect.

Summer, usually hot at this latitude, is here tempered by an elevation of 1,000 feet above sea level, and by the surrounding peaks of the Ozark Mountains, which rise several hundred feet higher in all directions. The nights are invariably cool and the pure mountain air and constant southern breezes make this the ideal season for invalids from all parts of the country. The mountains also afford magnificent views and scenery, and to crown all, they are covered with limitless stretches of pine forests, so much prized for their health-giving qualities; and the beautifully graded government drives, quiet country roads, walks and horseback trails, make it all easily and charmingly accessible.

As a Pleasure Resort.

IT is as a fashionable pleasure resort that the Hot Springs of Arkansas have attracted the greatest attention during the past decade. The idea that it is only those who are afflicted that come here has long since proven erroneous. With the completion of the four great hotels, the Arlington, Park, Eastman and Majestic, which are among the largest and finest resort hotels in the country, Hot Springs became prominent as the leading all-year pleasure resort of the United States. Its matchless climate brings Northern pleasure seekers here in winter, and its cool mountain atmosphere attracts the people of the South in summer.

The livery service is complete in Kentucky bred driving and saddle horses and stylish turn-outs. No resort in this country equals Hot Springs in this respect.

Expenses at Hot Springs.

MANY persons have an idea that a visit to Hot Springs necessitates a great expense, but such is not the case. Below is given a statement showing the range of cost of comfortable accommodations, medicine and medical attendance, bathing, etc. There are hotels to suit all persons.

Board and Lodging, per month.	$15 00 to $90 00
Physician's Fees, per month.....	20 00 to 30 00
Medicine (if needed).....	5 00 to 10 00
Bathing, per course.....	3 00 to 10 00
Bath Servant (if needed) per course.....	3 00 to 5 00

The City of Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS has a permanent population of 15,000 and 135,000 annual visitors.

It has forty-four hot springs, three banks, three daily newspapers, nineteen churches, ten schools, twelve livery stables, water works, electric and gas lights, electric street railroads, asphalt streets, fire and police departments, local and long distance telephone systems.

Hot Springs has two theaters, one new and elegantly decorated and furnished, where all the high-class attractions on the road are booked and two summer theaters. It has two race tracks, under Jockey Club auspices, where 2,000 horses race during the winter and spring. In Whittington Park is a base ball diamond and athletic arena, where glove and other contests are held, and it is the scene of constant amusements and entertainment.

The hotels of Hot Springs, listed elsewhere in this book, are of all classes, from $3 per week to the finest resort hotels in the country. They number upwards of 500, besides numerous furnished cottages and apartments and private boarding houses in profusion. Visitors can live at Hot Springs as reasonably as at home.

The Time to Visit Hot Springs.

AT Hot Springs, all seasons of the year are equally good. The best time to come is when the discovery is made that it is necessary. The climate, which is treated at length elsewhere, is fortunately favorable at all seasons. The winters are mild; the summers are cool, and for the ailing all time is season. It is, however, sensible where delay is not dangerous, to time the visit so as to avoid disagreeable climatic conditions at home. The hotels and bath houses are open and doing business every day in the year.

HOT SPRINGS has made great material advances in the past two years. The portion burned two years ago has been rebuilt with much finer buildings than the old ones, and Central avenue, the main thoroughfare of the city, has been paved with asphalt the past summer. There has been a large addition to the hotel facilities and in every way Hot Springs is much better fitted to take care of visitors than ever before.

How Hot Springs is Reached.
